Nebraska State Fair to Livestream Agriculture Events During Fair

State Fairgoers encouraged to follow CDC COVID guidelines during the 11-day fair.

GRAND ISLAND, Neb. (August 24, 2021) —New this year, the Nebraska State Fair will livestream select agriculture events and offer a dedicated 24/7 livestream of the birthing pavilion. Nebraskans can view 4H, FFA and various ag shows throughout the 11-day event. Tickets for the State Fair are on sale now and can be purchased online at StateFair.org or at the gate.

A full schedule of the livestock events that will be broadcasted is available at StateFair.org. Simply click on “Livestream” at the top of the page and select the event to view. Featured cameras include:

- 24/7 livestream from the Birthing Pavilion
- Aurora Cooperative Pavilion
- Five Points Bank Arena

“This is an excellent way for Nebraskans to experience the Fair from every corner of the state while providing agricultural education to Nebraska youth,” said Bill Ogg, executive director of the Nebraska State Fair. “The 24/7 livestream of the birthing pavilion will let Fairgoers enjoy other parts of the Fair and know when to make their way back to the pavilion. And the live stream of all our Ag events makes the Fair accessible to those who are unable to attend due to proximity or concerns around COVID-19.”

The Nebraska State Fair continues to work with Central District Health Department. At this time, the State Fair is not requiring masks, but will abide by all CDC health guidelines. Masks will be made available inside events for people who would like to use them. Multiple sanitation stations will also be set up across the fairgrounds.

Nebraska State Fair is scheduled for Aug. 27 through Sept. 6, 2021. Tickets can be purchased online at StateFair.org.
