Live Competitions

The Nebraska State Fair live competitions are a great opportunity to see how your baking skills measure up! Some judging categories to consider include overall taste, texture, presentation, originality, adherence to theme, and skill level.

You may learn new techniques, receive constructive feedback, and make new friends. Judges are shielded from seeing the name of the contestant as they taste. Even though you may think you would not win, try it! You just never know!

Please bring in your entries on the selected dates and times listed in the Entry Book on page 6. After the Nebraska State Fair is underway, enter Gate 5 to the 4-H/FFA Fieldhouse and use the North or West doors. Time is given so you may unload your entries. If you wish to remain at the fair, then you'll need to re-enter through the main gate off South Locust. These live competitions are open to the public, and you are welcome to watch the judging. After the judging is complete, winning entries are retained for display. The remaining entries will be released to the exhibitors.
